AMERICAN SHIP HAD ONE YANKEE SAILOR

[By Latest Mail]
SEATTLE.—Victim of a system of hazing which he says is practiced aboard the vessel at sea, beaten by officers and members of the crew and finally driven ashore, James Oliver, a sailor on the American schooner Lottie Bennett, has filed a complaint with the United States commissioner of navigation, Washington, D. C., which has been forwarded to United States Shipping Commissioner Wm. Welsh, in Seattle, for investigation.
That the troublesome times aboard the Lottie Bennett were in the nature of an international fray is shown in the roster of the vessel as given by Oliver. He explained that the captain was a Swede, the mate a Russian Finn and the crew consisted of two Germans, a Norwegian, an Englishman and himself.
Only American in Crew.
"I was the only American aboard and they all took turns to abuse me."

Rockefeller Tankers Are Big.

What are said to be the largest oil tankers in the world are the John D. Archbold, completed last winter by the Newport News Shipbuilding & Drydock Company, and the John D. Rockefeller, now under construction at that yard. These vessels are duplicates of each other and are designed to carry oil in bulk, having a deadweight carrying capacity of 10,000 tons. They are 474 1/2 feet long over all, 60 feet beam and 36 feet 2 inches depth molded to shorter deck. The Archbold is built with longitudinal framing and the hold is divided into nine tanks for carrying cargo oil with a center line bulkhead extending to the upper deck, dividing the tanks into port and starboard compartments. There are three decks—main, upper and shelter. The equipment of these vessels is very complete, including a submarine signal receiving set, wireless apparatus and lifeboats with a total capacity of double the number of persons on board.

SHIP'S SUPPLIES

COST SMALL

FORTUNE

When you pay your bill at the grocer's at the end of the month and find it is $10 higher than for the same month last year, you are inclined to grumble, for that extra $10 means $120 annually. What would you think if the increase amounted to $1,394,000? That is the additional amount paid by the North German Lloyd to the grocer last year over the preceding twelve months.

The total bill for food and drink of the German company for the fiscal year amounted to the enormous sum of $6,519,000, as against $5,125,000 during the preceding year, according to the official report just made public by Oelrichs & Co., general agents of the line. While the higher cost of living was partly responsible, the principal cause was the increased number of passengers carried over that of any other year in its history.

Ship's Appetite.
The appetites of the hungry passengers, however, were not as great as those of the ships themselves. Into their fiery maws, down under the decks, the stokers shoveled 1,791,013 tons of coal, worth $7,768,868. During the preceding year the ships consumed 1,743,016 tons of coal, valued at $7,581,370.

Fuel Bills Large.
For these two items alone, coal and provisions, the North German Lloyd spent during the year $14,287,868, a large part of which fell into the coffers of Uncle Sam, while a great part of the remainder went to the Germans. All of the coal for eastbound steamers is purchased in the United States and the same is true of the provisions.

For fresh meat during the year the company paid $2,111,250; for fish, $787,750; game, $531,000; fresh vegetables, $163,000; preserves, $313,250, while miscellaneous articles ran the bill up to $3,682,750 more.

What Is Consumed.
The passengers and crews consumed 8,348,867 pounds of fresh meat and 1,044,888 pounds of fish; 555,771 pounds of poultry; 1,157,100 pounds of flour; 20,844,680 pounds of potatoes; 7,801,604 eggs; 2,825,287 oranges and 1,000,000 apples and pears. They drank 36,661 bottles of champagne; 168,516 bottles of other wines; 291,998 bottles of beer and 2,214,841 quarts of beer in kegs, in addition to 428,914 bottles of mineral water.

The year 1913 broke all records for the line, not only for the quantity of food consumed, but also for the number of passengers carried.

Alakea Street,
Honolulu.

Gentlemen:—

Sometime ago we received from a mainland trust company an exceedingly attractive postal card containing on one side a colored cut of a large safe deposit vault.

As we had made plans for new quarters in an entirely new building just nearing completion and had installed a large new safe deposit vault, similar to the one shown in the cut just above mentioned, it occurred to us this was an excellent form of advertising and assuming that we could only have such work done on the Mainland, we were about to drop the matter when someone informed us that you did this class of work.

An order was placed with you, which has just been filled, and we wish to extend to you our hearty congratulations on the excellent results.

In our opinion you have surpassed the work done on the continent, which we received from this Mainland Trust Co. and it is a pleasure to know that we have a printing establishment here in Honolulu, namely, your own, which in a special class of colored printing, such as this, is equal, if not excel, the best printing firms on the Mainland.

Yours very truly,

HAWAIIAN TRUST COMPANY, LIMITED.
